GAME DAY

Cedarville University vs. Ohio Dominican Univ.
Wednesday, September 10, 2014 • 7 PM

Sept. 9, 2014

Sometimes I like to think of our (the team's) lives as a TV show. And, if there was ever a time that our lives deserved to be filmed, it was this past week. As for the name of our TV show, I haven't quite figured that out. I'm leaning towards "Chloe West and Friends", but "Keeping up with the Kardjacketans" and "How I met our Goalie" are also frontrunners. Anyway, our last game proved that truth really is stranger (and more disappointing) than fiction. With a 3-1 victory over West Virginia Wesleyan within our reach, lightning ripped the game from our hands and the record books. We needed to play 70 minutes for the game to count, and we missed it by eight minutes. The events of that game seem unforeseeable. But, as the following will reveal, we really should've seen it coming.

Sign #1: The Urbana game was great...too great.

On Thursday, we began our season at Urbana University. It was a perfect day. The sun was shining and our spirits were high. We warmed up well despite Urbana's jarring "Here are the first 10 seconds of 500 unrelated songs in rapid succession" warm-up music. And, after a much more enjoyable national anthem, (five-part harmony with a falsetto that couldn't and wouldn't stop), we played a great game. We won, 3-1, and Kristie assisted all three goals (I see you, fifth player to do so in Lady Yellow Jacket history). Afterwards, we returned home just in time for dinner and to watch the boys trounce Saint Joseph's. At this point, if our lives were a TV show, it would be a 1950s, our-lives-are-as-perfect-as-our-slightly-creepy-smiles, sitcom (Perhaps: "Coach Knows Best"). So, at that moment, we really should've reminded ourselves of the good old Biblical maxim, "The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh Away." Because then....

Sign #2: Our next game was in West Virginia.

West Virginia is a great state. After all, it's the birthplace of my grandparents (Go, Mimi and Papa!). But, let's be honest, it's a weird place. For example, along the way there, we passed a building with the words "Food - Barn - Ice Cream" on its front. What exactly does that advertise? A restaurant? A cost-effective amusement park? The never-before-heard fifth verse of "These are a Few of My Favorite Things"? Clearly, we should've known that we were in for something out of the ordinary when we buckled up for a game in West Virginia.

Sign #3: The "Locker Room"

Upon arriving at the school, we assumed we'd be shown into a locker room where we'd dress, focus our thoughts, and perform our traditional pre-game chant of "Red-hot." But, instead, we learned that the football team had taken our locker room and left us with a strange and seemingly purposeless large room as a substitute. There were no lockers, no showers, and the doors threatened to open at any moment. This room prompted several questions. Why did this game suddenly feel like a horror film? Did this mean no showers? Since when do schools actually have real football teams?! Although these questions were valid, we really should've recognized our strange environment for what it was: a warning that our game was going to be weird and disappointing.

Sign #4: Their Warm-Up

As we sat in the makeshift changing room, the other team suddenly burst through the doors to the tune of their warm-up music. I use the term "warm-up music" in the loosest sense of the word. Personally, I think the debauchery that poured forth from those speakers would've been better suited as a soundtrack to "Sodom and Gomorrah: The Movie." As we awkwardly sat and watched them alternate between a legitimate warm-up routine and a...less than legitimate dancing routine, our reactions varied. I believe the whole scene is best summed up in the words of Jacoby "Chubs" Ziegler: "my soul...it...it hurts..." With this first vision of our opponents, we really, really should've known we were in for a bizarre night.

Sign #5: The Celebration that Almost Killed Bri

Amazingly, despite the circumstances, we managed to play a great game. The WVW Bobcats are a great team, but we dominated them from the beginning. After Jacoby netted the first goal, we were all ecstatic. In her haste to celebrate the goal, Coach Bri failed to properly swallow her water. What resulted is best compared to a strangled shout, followed by a spew of water and an oh-so-attractive combination of laughter and hacking. At that point, with our coach's celebration quickly turning into her own private battle with her esophagus, we really, really, really, should've known that we were in for quite the evening.

So, there you have it. Although it might seem impossible to predict driving nine hours, playing 62 minutes, and scoring three goals without technically winning anything, we probably should've known something was going to happen.

Thankfully, there is one positive way in which this week resembled a TV show: all the events taught us a valuable lesson. The takeaway? That there are some things that can't be taken away. Although Saturday was a major disappointment, we still had several victories that weekend. Personally, I sustained a direct knee to the abdomen without rupturing any major organs. Also, we got to watch Carly "You think this is too far out to be a shot? Watch me" Gregory score an absolute zinger from at least 5000 yards away. Finally, and most importantly, playing a game without getting a result gave us an improved understanding of what it means to play for God's glory and nothing else. We walked away from that game with nothing but the knowledge that the minutes we did play were done so in His name. And, that was enough. We can look back on that game with smiles on our faces and pride in our hearts because we played hard and well without compromising our testimony as Christian athletes. The weather may have taken away our stats, but it did not take away our performance. We played "For Him" and we did it well.

Although our team may never produce enough material for a TV show, at least it will keep these blogs coming. Stay tuned until next week!

"We Back the Jackets!"

TONIGHT'S GAME

The Cedarville University women's soccer team hosts the Ohio Dominican University Panthers in a non-conference contest tonight at Yellow Jacket Field. It is the 2014 home opener for the Lady Jackets.

The Jackets, 1-0, posted a 3-1 win at Urbana last Thursday. Cedarville was leading 3-1 at West Virginia Wesleyan this past Saturday before weather forced the game to be cancelled just eight minutes shy of making an official contest.

The Panthers, NCAA II members of the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC), are 0-2 having dropped home matches to Tusculum and Southern Indiana.

The Jackets set a school mark for victories in 2013 by rolling to a 15-7 record. They also topped the Great Midwest Athletic Conference at 9-1 before stumbling in the league semifinals.

John McGillivray, who begins his 41st season coaching soccer at CU - 17 with the women (138-141-27), is excited about the 2014 squad. "Obviously, we have good players up and down the line. Jacoby Ziegler works really hard and not only scores goals, but creates chances as well. When you look in the back, Carly Gregory stands out with what she accomplished."

Jacoby Ziegler

Ziegler, a junior forward, repeated as the G-MAC Offensive Player of the Year. She ranked third in Division II nationally in scoring with 20 goals and 10 assists for 50 points.

Gregory, a junior, was the G-MAC Defensive Player of the Year. She and Ziegler were joined on the all-conference first team by sophomore midfielder Grace Miorrelli and junior defender Kaleigh Rowlands.

Ohio Dominican, under the leadership of sixth-year Head Coach Jonathan Meade (53-26-15), returns a solid nucleus of experienced players including top goal scorer Lauren Pratt.

Jordan Mazzi is also back after scoring six goals with one assist in 2013.

Senior Laura Clark returns in goal for ODU. The keeper posted 4 shutouts last season with a 1.07 goals against average.

The Panthers lead the all-time series with CU by a 10-2-1 margin including 23-15 in goals scored. ODU posted a 2-1 overtime win last Sept. 10 in Columbus.

HEAD COACH JOHN MCGILLIVRAY

John McGillivray is one of the most well-respected soccer coaches in the state of Ohio and has been coaching soccer at Cedarville University since 1974.

McGillivray has been the head coach of the Lady Jackets since 1998. He served as the Cedarville men's head coach from 1974 through 1997.

Coupled with the 137 wins with the women, McGillivray has 352 total soccer victories at CU. His 300th overall win came in a 5-0 decision over Grace on Aug. 28, 2008. He picked up his 100th victory with the Lady Jackets in a 2-1 result at Point Park on Oct. 17, 2009.

McGillivray has enjoyed seven winning seasons with the Lady Jackets including a best-ever 15-7 mark in 2013. CU led the Great Midwest Athletic Conference with a 9-1 regular season mark and McGillivray was voted G-MAC Coach of the Year.

Cedarville finished 13-8-2 in 2004, won NCCAA Midwest Region championship, and secured an automatic berth in the NCCAA National Tournament. The 2000 club had a 12-7-2 record and made the school's first-ever NCCAA championship appearance in women's soccer.

McGillivray and his teams have long been recognized for their sportsmanlike behavior. His Lady Jackets twice received the Fair Play Team Award from the American Mideast Conference for their exemplary conduct on the field. He was presented the first-ever Distinguished Merit Award in 1990 by the Ohio Collegiate Soccer Officials Association. The National Intercollegiate Soccer Officials Association honored him in 1992 with their National Merit Award.

The Springfield, Ohio native led his men's teams to eight Mid-Ohio Conference titles, five NCCAA District III banners, three NAIA District 22 championships, and one NAIA Area IV crown which carried with it a trip to the NAIA Nationals in 1974. He guided his squad to five NCCAA National Tournament appearances, a pair of NCCAA National Runner-Up finishes and he was chosen NCCAA National Coach of the Year in 1981.

McGillivray served at all levels of NAIA soccer including president of the NAIA Soccer Coaches Association from 1983 through 1985. He was inducted into the Cedarville University Athletic Hall of Fame in 1991 and the NAIA Hall of Fame in 1993.

McGillivray, who is an associate professor in the Department of Kinesiology and Allied Health, is a 1970 graduate of Cedarville College, and he earned his master's degree in 1976 from the University of Dayton. John and his wife, Bonnie, reside in Cedarville and have five children and 15 grandchildren.

Women's Soccer Athlete of the Week

(Aug. 31-Sept. 6, 2014)

Ashley Winkelspecht • Davis & Elkins
Senior • Williamston, NJ

Ashley Winkelspecht has been named the conference's Women's Soccer Athlete of the Week to open the 2014 schedule. The Senators opened the season on the road against one of the nation's best, preseason #12 California University of Pennsylvania. D&E, behind the solid performance of the defense and senior goalkeeper Ashley Winkelspecht, the team left with a 0-0 double overtime tie.

Winkelspecht made six saves in the 110 minutes played as the defending conference champions opened the season. California (Pa.) had a few scoring chances in the first half, but D&E held the game scoreless and despite being outshot 14-6, including 11-4 in regulation, Winkelspecht helped the team start the season on a high note.

Great Midwest Athletic Conference - Women's Soccer

The Great Midwest Athletic Conference (G-MAC), was approved by the NCAA Division II Membership Committee in February of 2012 as a member conference and earned active status in July of 2013, after completing an educational assessment program in 2012-13. The conference began competition as the 24th active NCAA Division II conference in 2013-14.

The G-MAC features both active and reclassifying members from Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia. Charter members of the G-MAC included Cedarville University, Central State University, Kentucky Wesleyan College, Trevecca Nazarene University, and Ursuline College.

The G-MAC expanded with the inclusion of Alderson Broaddus University, Davis & Elkins College, Ohio Valley University, and Salem International University as active DII members. Georgetown College was added as a Provisional Member in 2012, while Cumberland University was added as a Provisional Member in 2013.

The G-MAC, headquartered in the Indianapolis metro area, sponsored 17 championships in 2013-14 as an active NCAA Division II conference.
